himself Admitted to Bail in $2,000.

The Victim of the Shooting Said to be Out of Danger.

Washington, March 1. Ex-Superintendent Brooks was that morning by Justice Miller in bail in the sum of $2,000 to appear at the December session of the criminal court to answer the charge of shooting Mr. Elkins. Mr. Brooks was accompanied to the court room by a large number of his friends, who had gathered at the house during the night for a long time. Mr. Brooks was attended by Messrs. Wilson and Hoge, counsel for the defendant, and Mr. Elkins was represented by Messrs. Bradley and Hine. Mr. Elkins was present during the proceedings, and was apparently in good health and spirits. Mr. Brooks was also present, looking well and in good spirits. Judge Miller, after hearing the evidence, decided that the bail should be fixed at $2,000, and Mr. Brooks was released from custody upon entering into bonds in that amount with sureties. Mr. Brooks then left the court room with his friends, and proceeded to his residence, where he received the congratulations of his friends upon the favorable result of the hearing. Mr. Elkins is reported to be out of danger, and will probably be able to be out in a few days.

CONGRESSIONAL.

An Assistant Secretary of War Appointed.

Senate.

Washington, March 1. After the reception of a few private bills, Mr. Gibbons, of Michigan, called up the Senate bill providing for an Assistant Secretary of War, which was passed, yeas 138, nays 102.

Mr. Houk, of Tennessee, called up the contested election case of Postlethwaite vs. Cox, from the First District of Arkansas, and the House decided to consider it.

Mr. Cox, of New York, then addressed the House in favor of the claim of the contestant. Mr. Postlethwaite, in favor of the claim of the sitting member, and Mr. Price, of Wisconsin, also spoke briefly in favor of the claim of the contestant.

FIRE IN A STEAMER.

Rush Passage Done and Considerable Excitement Caused.

Detroit, March 1. A fire occurred this morning on the steamer Williamsburg, Capt. Cooper, of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Co. line, lying in Myrtle Wharf, Charlestown. The fire started in the boiler room and was communicated to the boat itself in a short time by a large quantity of oil and the general fuel for a body of the dry department, which, together with the shavings, was soon in a blaze. The crew and employees acted well and had the fire under control in a short time. The steamer was then towed out from the wharf to prevent the fire from communicating to other boats.

Several boats left Detroit for the fire, but the steamer had to be towed out before they could reach her. She is insured for $10,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

BURNED TO DEATH

From the Result of a Drunken Spree.

Johnstown, Pa., March 2. Martin O'Malley and Peter Pelley were burned to death this morning. O'Malley, who was a laborer, lived in a little shanty near the railroad track. The two had got on a spree on yesterday, and this morning, in the state they had retired.

FROM WASHINGTON.

News About the Capitol.

Mr Randall Improved.

Washington, March 1. The reporter visited Mr. Randall this morning, and found him in an all right spirit, as he always is when visited. He said he was a second time threatened, that was a second time disappointed in the finality. His health is better at present than for several months past.

Confidence Above Vote Views.

Washington, March 2. In connection with the answers made by Mr. Carlisle, of Kentucky, that the ascendancy of Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, will secure to Mr. Cox, of New York, the Democratic vote for Speaker, a member is heard to say that Mr. Randall is friendly to Mr. Cox's election, but that he is unalterably opposed to the latter's views on the tariff question, and that he will vote for Mr. Carlisle rather than for Mr. Cox.

Cox Declines.

Washington, March 2. In consequence of the numerous calls made by Mr. Carlisle's friends that the withdrawal of Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Cox, of New York, would leave the Democratic vote free to support Mr. Carlisle, the latter gentleman has addressed a letter to Mr. Cox, declining to withdraw his name from the contest.

Mr. Cox's Letter.

Washington, March 2. Mr. Cox has written a letter declining to withdraw his name from the contest for Speaker. He says he will not be bulldozed into withdrawing, and that he will not withdraw unless he is satisfied that the withdrawal of himself and Randall will secure the election of a Democrat who will support the Democratic platform and the principles of Democracy. He says
